Spring Into Water Awareness

April is Water Awareness Month. Small spring habits can help protect your home and our local waterways.

Water plants early in the morning to reduce evaporation, add mulch to retain soil moisture, and consider native plants that require less watering. It's also a good time to check irrigation timers, sprinkler heads, and hose connections for leaks. If outdoor hoses aren't in use, disconnecting them can help prevent unnecessary water loss.

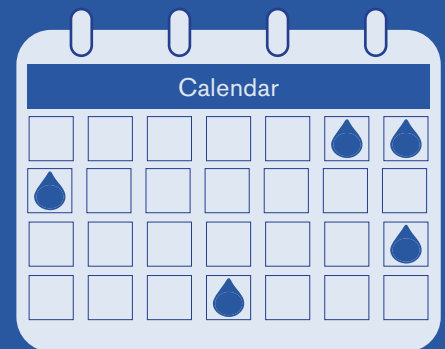

You might also consider installing a rain barrel to capture runoff for your garden and reduce demand on treated water.

If you notice a leak, pressure change, or discolored water, please contact us so our crews can respond quickly.

We are replacing about 1,400 feet of sewer main on Celeste Road to boost reliability and support future growth. The project is expected to wrap up within the coming months. For questions or updates, call (251) 675-5126 or visit saralandwater.com/contact-us. Thank you for your patience and support.
